The Best Connection

I had problems sending my son to camp, it almost looked like he will stay home for the summer. That night, I found a friend and told him my situation. My friend asked me, "Did you try the best thing, thanking Hashem"? I right away thanked Hashem and promised that if I will be helped within 24 hours I will thank Hashem in public. 24 hours later, things started to move in the right direction! Thank You Hashem, my son is a happy camper!

Perfect Landing

I went to the park with my little kids today, and my older son came home for a break to meet us at the park. When we left, he helped me strap the kids in and he put his hat on top of the car. We drove off, not knowing he left it there. Like 10 minutes into the drive he says, "Oh no! My hat! I left it on top of the car"! He gets out and it's not there! The first thing he said was, "Thank You Hashem, and I will publicly thank You when we find it".

We drove back all the way, and it was on the side of the road right where we left the park, laying nicely on the floor untouched! Thank You Hashem!

The gift of Vision

My wife promised to thank Hashem publicly if I find my glasses, and I did not even know about it. Soon enough, someone walked over to me in shul and gave me my glasses! Thank You Hashem, that I have my eyeglasses, and can see and read clearly!

Thought of the Week

In it is written, וּבָבֹא מֹשֶׁה לִפְנֵי ד' לְדַבֵּר אֵלָיו יֹסִיר אֶת־הַמַּסָּוָה.
 That when Mשה רבינו came in to speak with Hashem, he took off the mask. The holy Tiferes Shlomo explains, that when a Jew goes and prays for another Jew, he should not be ashamed but rather pray with all his heart. He continues to say, that it says in Tehilim פרק קי"ח the following:
פִּתְחוּ־לִי שַׁעֲרֵי־צְדָק אֲבֹא־בָם אוֹרָה קָה.
 That when a Jew opens the gates of שמים by thanking and praising Hashem, that's when he can ask for everything he needs for himself as well.

Traffic Control

Friday morning, I was Davening with the 9am Minyan, and I needed to move my car for alternate side parking at 9:30am. I said to Hashem, "You are the only one in control that I should not get a ticket". About 9:50 I saw a traffic police car roaming down the street he passed my car and did not issue me a ticket! Thank You Hashem!
